BPE Pointer Article

Veterans' Corner by Bob Berger

How time flies here at Brittany Pointe. Many of us are reading this version of the Pointer wondering where did last year go? It is difficult to believe that 2020 is finally here. For years many have been involved with planning activities that would be occurring in the year with the redundant numbers. Remember folks talking about how great it would be to have 2020 vision of the future or was it of the past? Now that it is 2020, everything will be just fine and perfectly clear.

Many of us who have served in the Armed Services look back not only on our accomplishments while in uniform, but also those successes we achieved after hanging up our uniforms for the last time. It is wonderful recalling the adventures we have experienced. We cherish the good times and activities. We remember making new friends within our small units, helping each other or complaining together about the food, or cold, or heat, or the sergeant, or the officers, building a team to share both the good and bad things that happen in the military. Let this new year be a celebration of your memories of service to the nation. America is a better place for your service and dedication. God bless the United States of America!
