

Quilting Information

In 2001, ago Barbara Kerr invited residents of Brittany Pointe to her apartment to discuss the possibility of forming a quilting group. Twelve women came and the challenge was on. They pooled their creativity and talents, shared a love of fabric, color, and design, and changed Brittany Pointe. The works of their hands warms our auditorium and lobby spaces and hang as welcoming signs on many residents' doors. The quality of their work has created a revenue stream for the Brittany Pointe Estates Residents Association through their sales at BPERA's two annual events—the Quilt and Craft Fair and the Annual Bazaar. They cherish traditional hand quilting methods even as they employ the newest of machine and computer technology to expand their creative reach. They visit quilts shows, attend seminars, and invite speakers to continually expand their mastery of the art.

New members are always welcome. Whether simply curious about the craft, a beginner, or a skilled quilter they will find an outlet for their creativity and a welcoming group ready to help, to teach, to share, to encourage.
